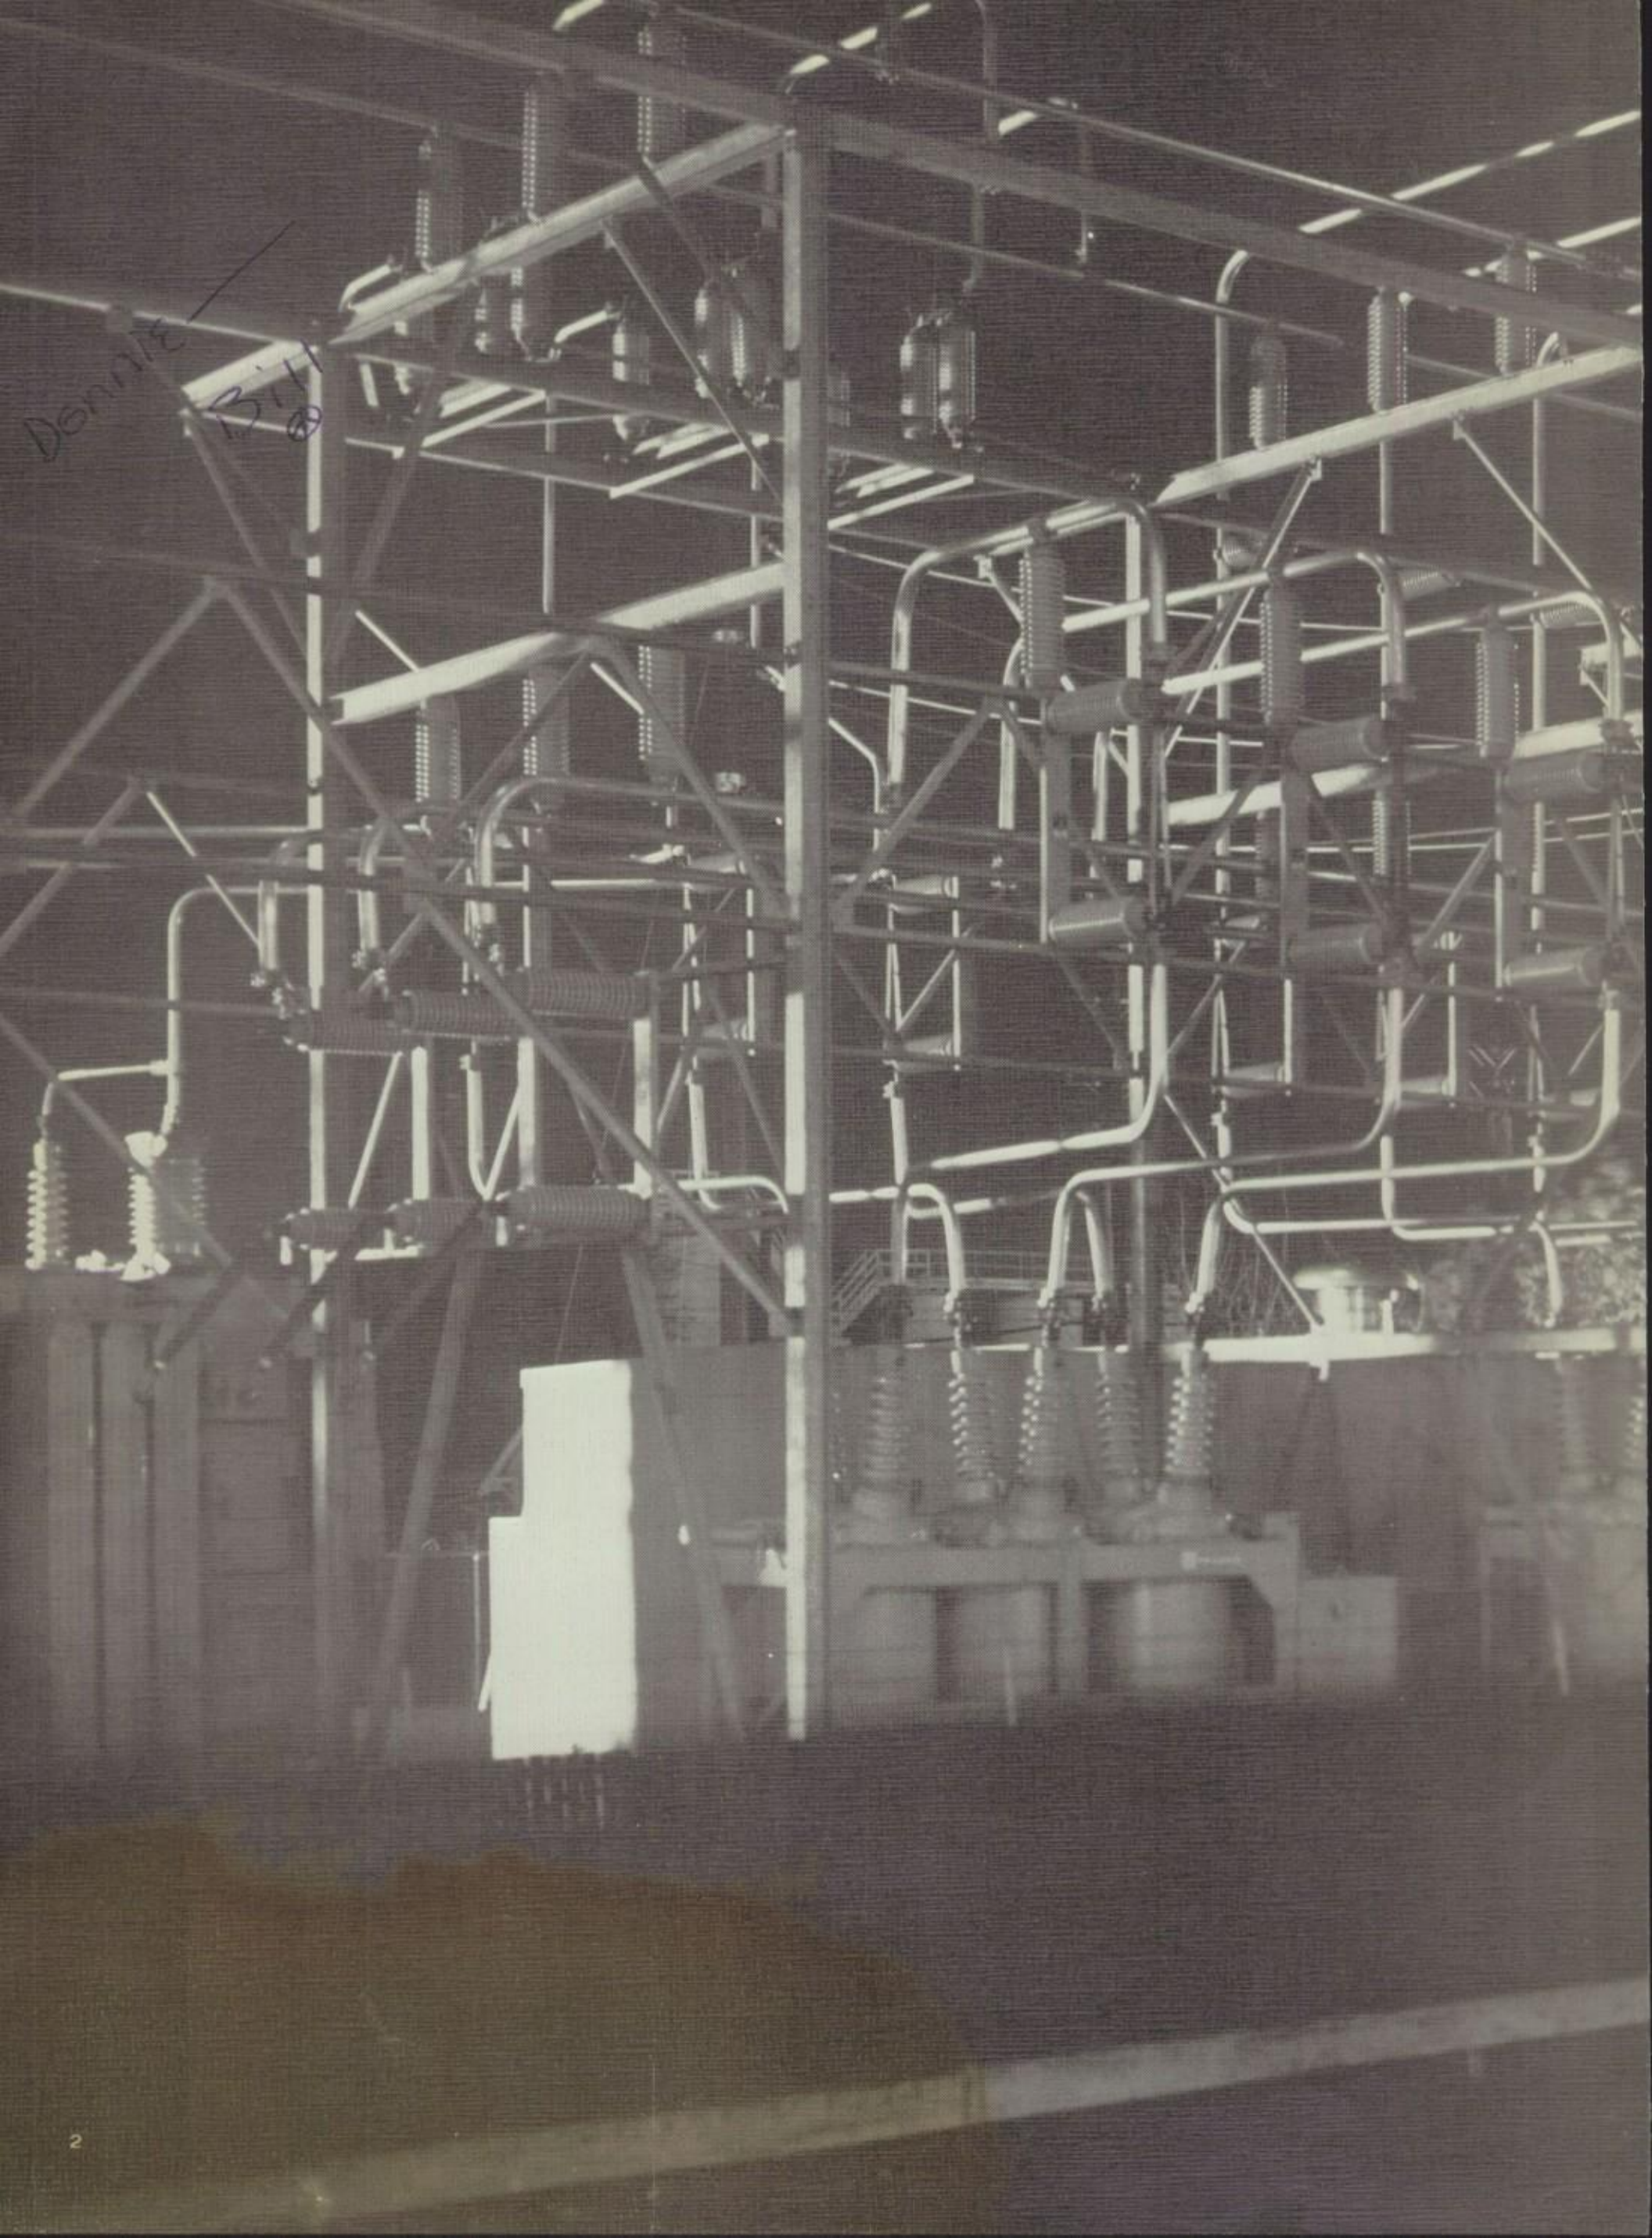
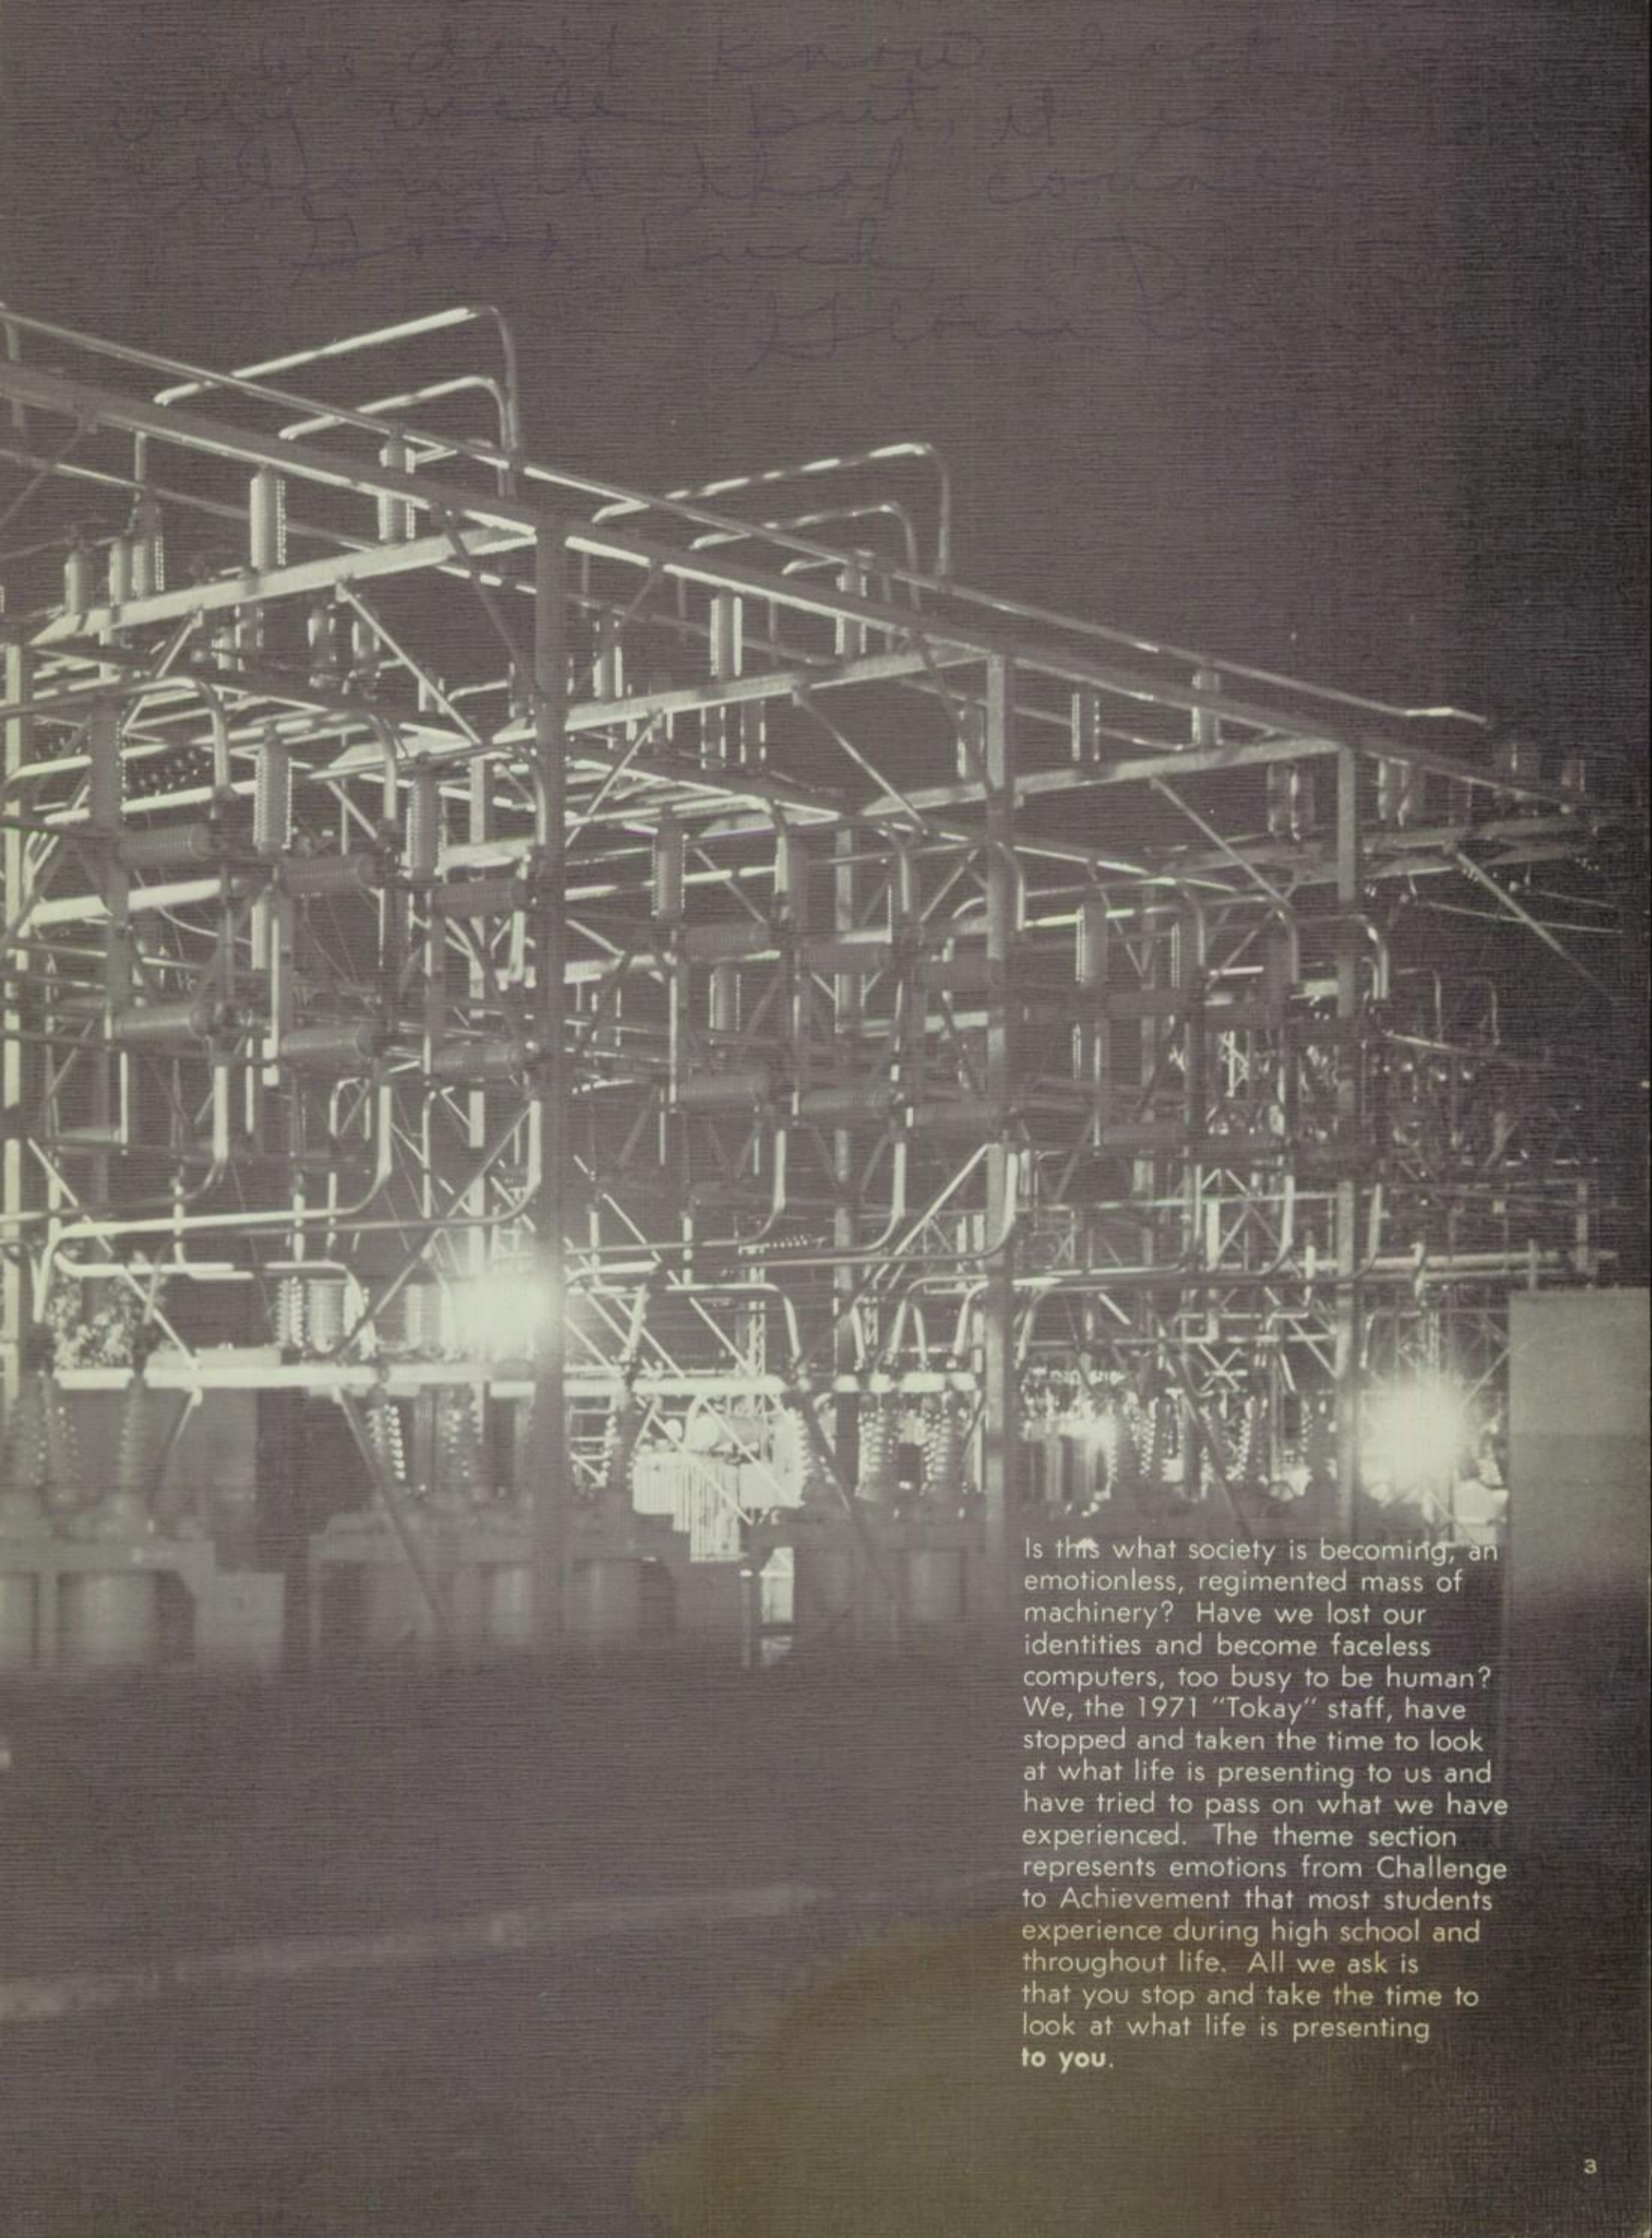
Volume 73, 1971

Lodi High School

Lodi, California

Published by the Yearbook Design Class





Is this what society is becoming, an emotionless, regimented mass of machinery? Have we lost our identities and become faceless computers, too busy to be human? We, the 1971 "Tokay" staff, have stopped and taken the time to look at what life is presenting to us and have tried to pass on what we have experienced. The theme section represents emotions from Challenge to Achievement that most students experience during high school and throughout life. All we ask is that you stop and take the time to look at what life is presenting to you.

The door of knowledge is opened to those who recognize its eternal existence.

Anxiety presents itself in many forms at unsuspecting moments; truly great is the man who comprehends and overcomes it. (Tim Weaver top, Stan Renz above)

Agitation evolves from frustration of the most minute things in life. (Girl's Physical Education)

frustration

brings tears of turmoil
slowly down my face, and disappointment
invades my soul.
in the hollows of my mind
chagrin takes its place, and despair blurs my goal.

Frustration moves in when everything seems so foolish and everyone seems to conspire against you. (Joan Stennick left, Esperanza Prieto above)

Donny- Call loud, I am really glad to of not you this year. will always remember you. Hope life is good to you. Best of luck. Come see me this summer next year in action. Love to you Karl Salaar

radical government revision involved student council

for the 1970-71 term. A completely revised constitution was passed by council members on Feb. 10. The new constitution is divided into three legislative bodies presided over by an executive branch. They are the student assembly, the club council, and the campus governing boards. The student assembly consists of one representative of each class level from ten geographical election districts. The assembly is responsible for appointment approval, student welfare, student funds, administrative policy, curriculum recommendations, election regulations, committee establishment, and impeachment. The club council or student senate is made up of one representative from each club or organization and one representative of each "A" and "B" song and yell group. They are in charge of planning the year-round social program. The campus governing board consists of two boards, one from each campus. Each is responsible for the matters which pertain to its particular campus. The executive branch consists of the elected officers of the Associated Students. They are the president, the vice president, and the treasurer. They enforce the constitution, prepare the budget, represent council to council, organize special meetings, appoint officials, and designate committees.

Other council projects were inter-council committees concerning student rights, financial affairs, social activities, and screening. They also voted for the termination of the traditional dress code, and on Jan. 4 girls were finally allowed to wear pants. The council sponsored a sock-hop, "Barefoot in the Park," on Nov. 7.

Student Council members for 1971 were front row Laura Jackson, Toni Fena, Kelly Acton, Cindy Maley, Judy Wudel, "B" song leaders; Cheryl Fowler, Cathy Miller, Susan Vaughan, Judy Harding, "A" song leaders. Row two Kathy Baszler, Connie Roster, Janis Kurata, Joan Beckman, Chris Keser, "B" yell leaders; Robert Lapenta and Neil Baffoni, "A" yell leaders. Row three Robert Bradshaw, commissioner of boys' athletics; Leslie Fukunaga, WC rally commissioner; Robin Tuttle, secretary WC student council; Jolene Valenti, freshman representative; Derek Daley, sophomore president; Valdene Valenti, senior representative; David Wright and Kurt Heins, "A" yell leaders. Row four Peggy Ward, girls' affairs commissioner; Pilar Vasquez, publicity commissioner; Doug Bellamy, sophomore representative; Mary Artero and Cynthia Cima, "Flame" co-editors; Michele Bonotto, EC rally commissioner; Connie Helwig, girls' athletics commissioner; Willy Elliott, vice president. Row five Bruce Hoelle, "Tokay" editor; Thomas Herrmann, senior president; Diana Wudel, junior representative; and Randi Katnich, secretary-treasurer. Student Senate below met twice a month in room S20 and held a monthly pot-luck dinner.

talent YOU + ME flowed abundantly during 'Selection '70,'

the 1970 Junior Variety Show, which provided varied entertainment Dec. 17-19. Performances ran three nights and profitted the Junior Class approximately $650 after paying the Drama Department for production expenses. Mr. Malcolm Stone directed the show, assisted by senior Stuart Bewley. Mrs. Mary Hill was in charge of choreography.

Members of the "Green Christmas" cast top took notes on dos and don'ts of advertising under the direction of Scrooge (Stuart Bewley). Jenny Humphreys and Ross and George Washington in a short skit "Betsy Ross." Patty Huber and Mike Castillo right performed original songs: "Me and You Together," "My Life," and "Dying Heart."

created an air of existentialism

for couples who attended the Oct. 7 student body dance, "Barefoot in the Park." Music was provided by "Soul Purpose" of San Jose and accented the theme of complete and total aliveness. Senior Michele Bonotto served as chairman, while Jan Burlington, Cheryl Fowler, and Kathy Miller assisted with decorations and refreshments.

Sherrie Turner and Wes Shinn below twirled to the music. Letting the sunshine in below right were Connie Helwig and Wendy Hessler.

peter pan sprang to life as Senior Class revival

in East Campus Auditorium

The main characters, Peter Pan, Wendy, and Tiger Lily, were played by Shellie Taylor, Kathy Berg, and Jeanne Lawson. Director Malcolm Stone received $2,000 from the Senior Class but reported the money would not cover production costs which included intricate flying rigs and special costume rentals.

The musical, presented April 22, 23, and 24, was expected to be very successful, according to the director.

flying lessons broadened senior play cast.

Margaret Christman, Cheryl Fowler, Cathy Miller, and Mike Klemin right discussed their roles for "Never, Never Land." Tom Herrmann, Mike Areida, and Lora Newton rehearsed for opening night, while Director Malcolm Stone below pondered over the script.

Receiving stage directions above were members of the cast. Director Malcolm Stone left offered detailed advice to Robby Lawson and Chuck Kroeger.

was lacking for EC Pepstirs

while WC Pepstirs still thrived. Rally commissioner Michelle Bonotto led the unenthusiastic EC Pepstirs, while the involved WC Pepstirs were guided by Keith Bewley. EC gained funds through two days of slave sales during Stagg Week, while WC sold rooters' caps, bumper stickers, and spirit buttons. Pepstirs chose the theme "Something's Burnin' " for the week of activities before the Stagg game. EC chose Linda Woznick; WC chose Regina Clements as queen candidates.

Rally commissioner Michelle Bonotto and EC Pepstirs adviser Miss Anne Ganzer right discussed plans for Stagg Week. EC Pepstirs below chose to enter a car in the parade.

sponsored by Block 'L' included a cushion sale to buy a $2,000 weight machine for the PE Department. Other projects were selling programs at basketball games and a car wash. Coach Jim Teem served as adviser, while Mike Lynch was elected president. Other officers were Glenn Noma, vice president; David Rau, secretary; Rod Iwamura, treasurer; Dennis Sieber, sergeant-at-arms; Glen Fukunaga, historian; and Rick Rimmer, EC representative.

entered public debate on tax override needs

Mar. 26 at a Speech Arts Festival. The festival consisted of a debate between community leaders and Gaveliers' members on the community decision to reject a tax override plan April 14, 1970. Gaveliers' members proposed a new override plan which would grant more money toward supplies, salaries, and other district needs.

revealed West Campus original drama talent

as junior Donnie Bilar produced his second play. Based totally on an emotional level, the play was performed surrealistically in three parts. Audiences were seated about a series of three platforms to give the illusion of a house without walls. The play concerned the lives of many people caught up in a fantasy world; people living in social, psychological, and neurotic daydreams. New York City was the birthplace of the play's first draft and moods vary, as did Donnie's experiencing "fun city." Production members included Director Donnie Bilar, Mr. Wayne Craig, assistant director; Adviser, Don Levy; Theresa Cox, Rosalind; George Koster, Connery; Jim Burlington, Deed; Lesley Dawson, Sonja; Coleen Kinsley, Carolyn; and Vicky Kaida, script and publicity girl.

Director Donnie Bilar upper right set the mood for the climax and right later carried out a demonstration. Starlet Colleen Kinsley above rehearsed the walk of the rich society girl she portrayed.

Professor Bill Dorman below illustrated a point about "our square society." Officers bottom were Cynthia Haynes, treasurer; Pat McCombs, vice president; Deb Field, secretary; Mary Brink, program chairman; and Bruce Hoelle, president.

Deb Hart right added the final touches to the Lodi-Stagg Parade entry. The results top right were shown in the downtown parade on November 20.

relevancy

of new college courses was cited by professor at Quill & Scroll session

which featured Bill Dorman, assistant professor of journalism, at Sacramento State College. Stagg Press Club was also in attendance and concluded the evening with an annual gift exchange.

Eighteen journalists attended the National Scholastic Press Association convention in San Francisco April 17-18. Top national yearbooks and newspapers were on display including the "Tokay."

tutoring

was used by MASA to distribute knowledge

to selected primary students through a tutoring program instigated at Lakewood School. The newly formed Mexican-American Student Association was primarily designed to aid the Chicano student in the educational aspects of school. Though membership was lagging, the club managed to gain a Mexican-American counselor-aide and the tutoring program. An excursion to Delta Junior College was taken by junior and senior club members, and the entire club visited Fricot Boys' Ranch in December.

Junior-Senior couples moved with tempos at 'City by the Bay'

Feb. 27 at the American Legion Building from 8:30 until midnight. General chairman was Marsha Beckman. Other committee chairmen were Janet Fotheringham, bids; Karen Brown, favors; Liz Romero and Rich Hawley, decorations; Lacey Randolph, band; Diane Lozano, publicity; Joan Canepa, refreshments; and Myriam Chaveau, clean-up. "Mothers' Worry" provided the prom rhythms.

King Mike Lynch and Queen Janice Daijogo left sat in all splendor after their crowning. Adding finishing touches to decorations above were Lacey Randolph and Carol Dittus.

of 'Flame' worked to excel in all phases

of newspaper editing as staff structure saw a first in the paper's 51-year history. Mary Artero and Cindy Cima attained the first co-editorship for juniors. Cindy Cima also edited the news page. Sophomore Bob Pattison directed the editorial page, Mary Artero supervised the feature page, and Rich Stevens edited the sports page. At semester break, some reporters and editors changed jobs to give them experience before the seniors graduated, and the responsibility was entirely theirs. Most staff members were juniors and sophomores. During the year, several double spreads on pages two and three were published, and controversial subjects were weekly copy.

members and was channeled through the administration for the betterment of fellow students.

Tasks, energetically performed by hall monitors, office workers, and cafeteria workers, added to the smooth routine of school life.

Among their various duties, office workers promptly picked up and filed attendance slips, while cafeteria workers kept food hot and piles of utensils clean.

Ninety hall monitors were posted at strategic locations around the West Campus by Adviser Pat Doyle.

accented the planning of the 'Tokay' staff

for 1970-71. Bruce Hoelle, editor-in-chief, guided the work for 21 staffers with the help of assistants Nancy Papais and Dave Field in charge of planning and production, respectively.

With the enlargement of the book to 9 by 12 inches, the Walsworth Company of Missouri was chosen for the responsibility of publishing what the "Tokay" staff hoped would be the sixth consecutive NSPA All American yearbook at Lodi High.

Mary Brink took the job of copy editor, while Pat McCombs served as layout editor. Deb Sare was style editor. Respective jobs of film, index, classes, sports, and art editor were held by Randi Katnick, Pilar Vasquez, Janis Howard, Mike Crete, and Dan Wheeler. Emily Selles served as typist, while Lance Mino was head photographer.

went to 'A' Song, Yell

for their spirited 1971 performances. The "men" earned recognition as top yell leaders at the Camellia City Tournament, while "A" songleaders captured third-place honors during the camp at Squaw Valley. Rallies and half-times were enlivened by stunts performed in unison by song and yell leaders. Practices held together helped create an atmosphere of inter-group harmony. College type yells were employed to arouse spirit by the "A" yell leaders, as "A" songleaders used various original props to vitalize routines.

leaders rallied frosh-sophs to victory

as they enthusiastically filled the gym with encouraging songs and yells. . Practicing daily, first period, kept song girls busy choreographing and rehearsing routines, while determined yell leaders composed original actions.

A variety of garage sales, bake sales, car washes, and bottle drives sponsored by the spirit leaders covered the expenses required to go to summer camp. Yell leaders chose the Oakland camp, while song girls worked their way to Squaw Valley.

kicked off its first season devastatingly

as Lodi High compiled an 0-8 record under Coach Joel Evans, who found the season results were not ample payment for his volunteer efforts. Only one minor injury was reported. Klaus Lehrach received a broken finger while defending Lodi's goal. Lodi ended the season against Stagg in "the Mudbowl." When the battle ended, players were past recognition.

victories

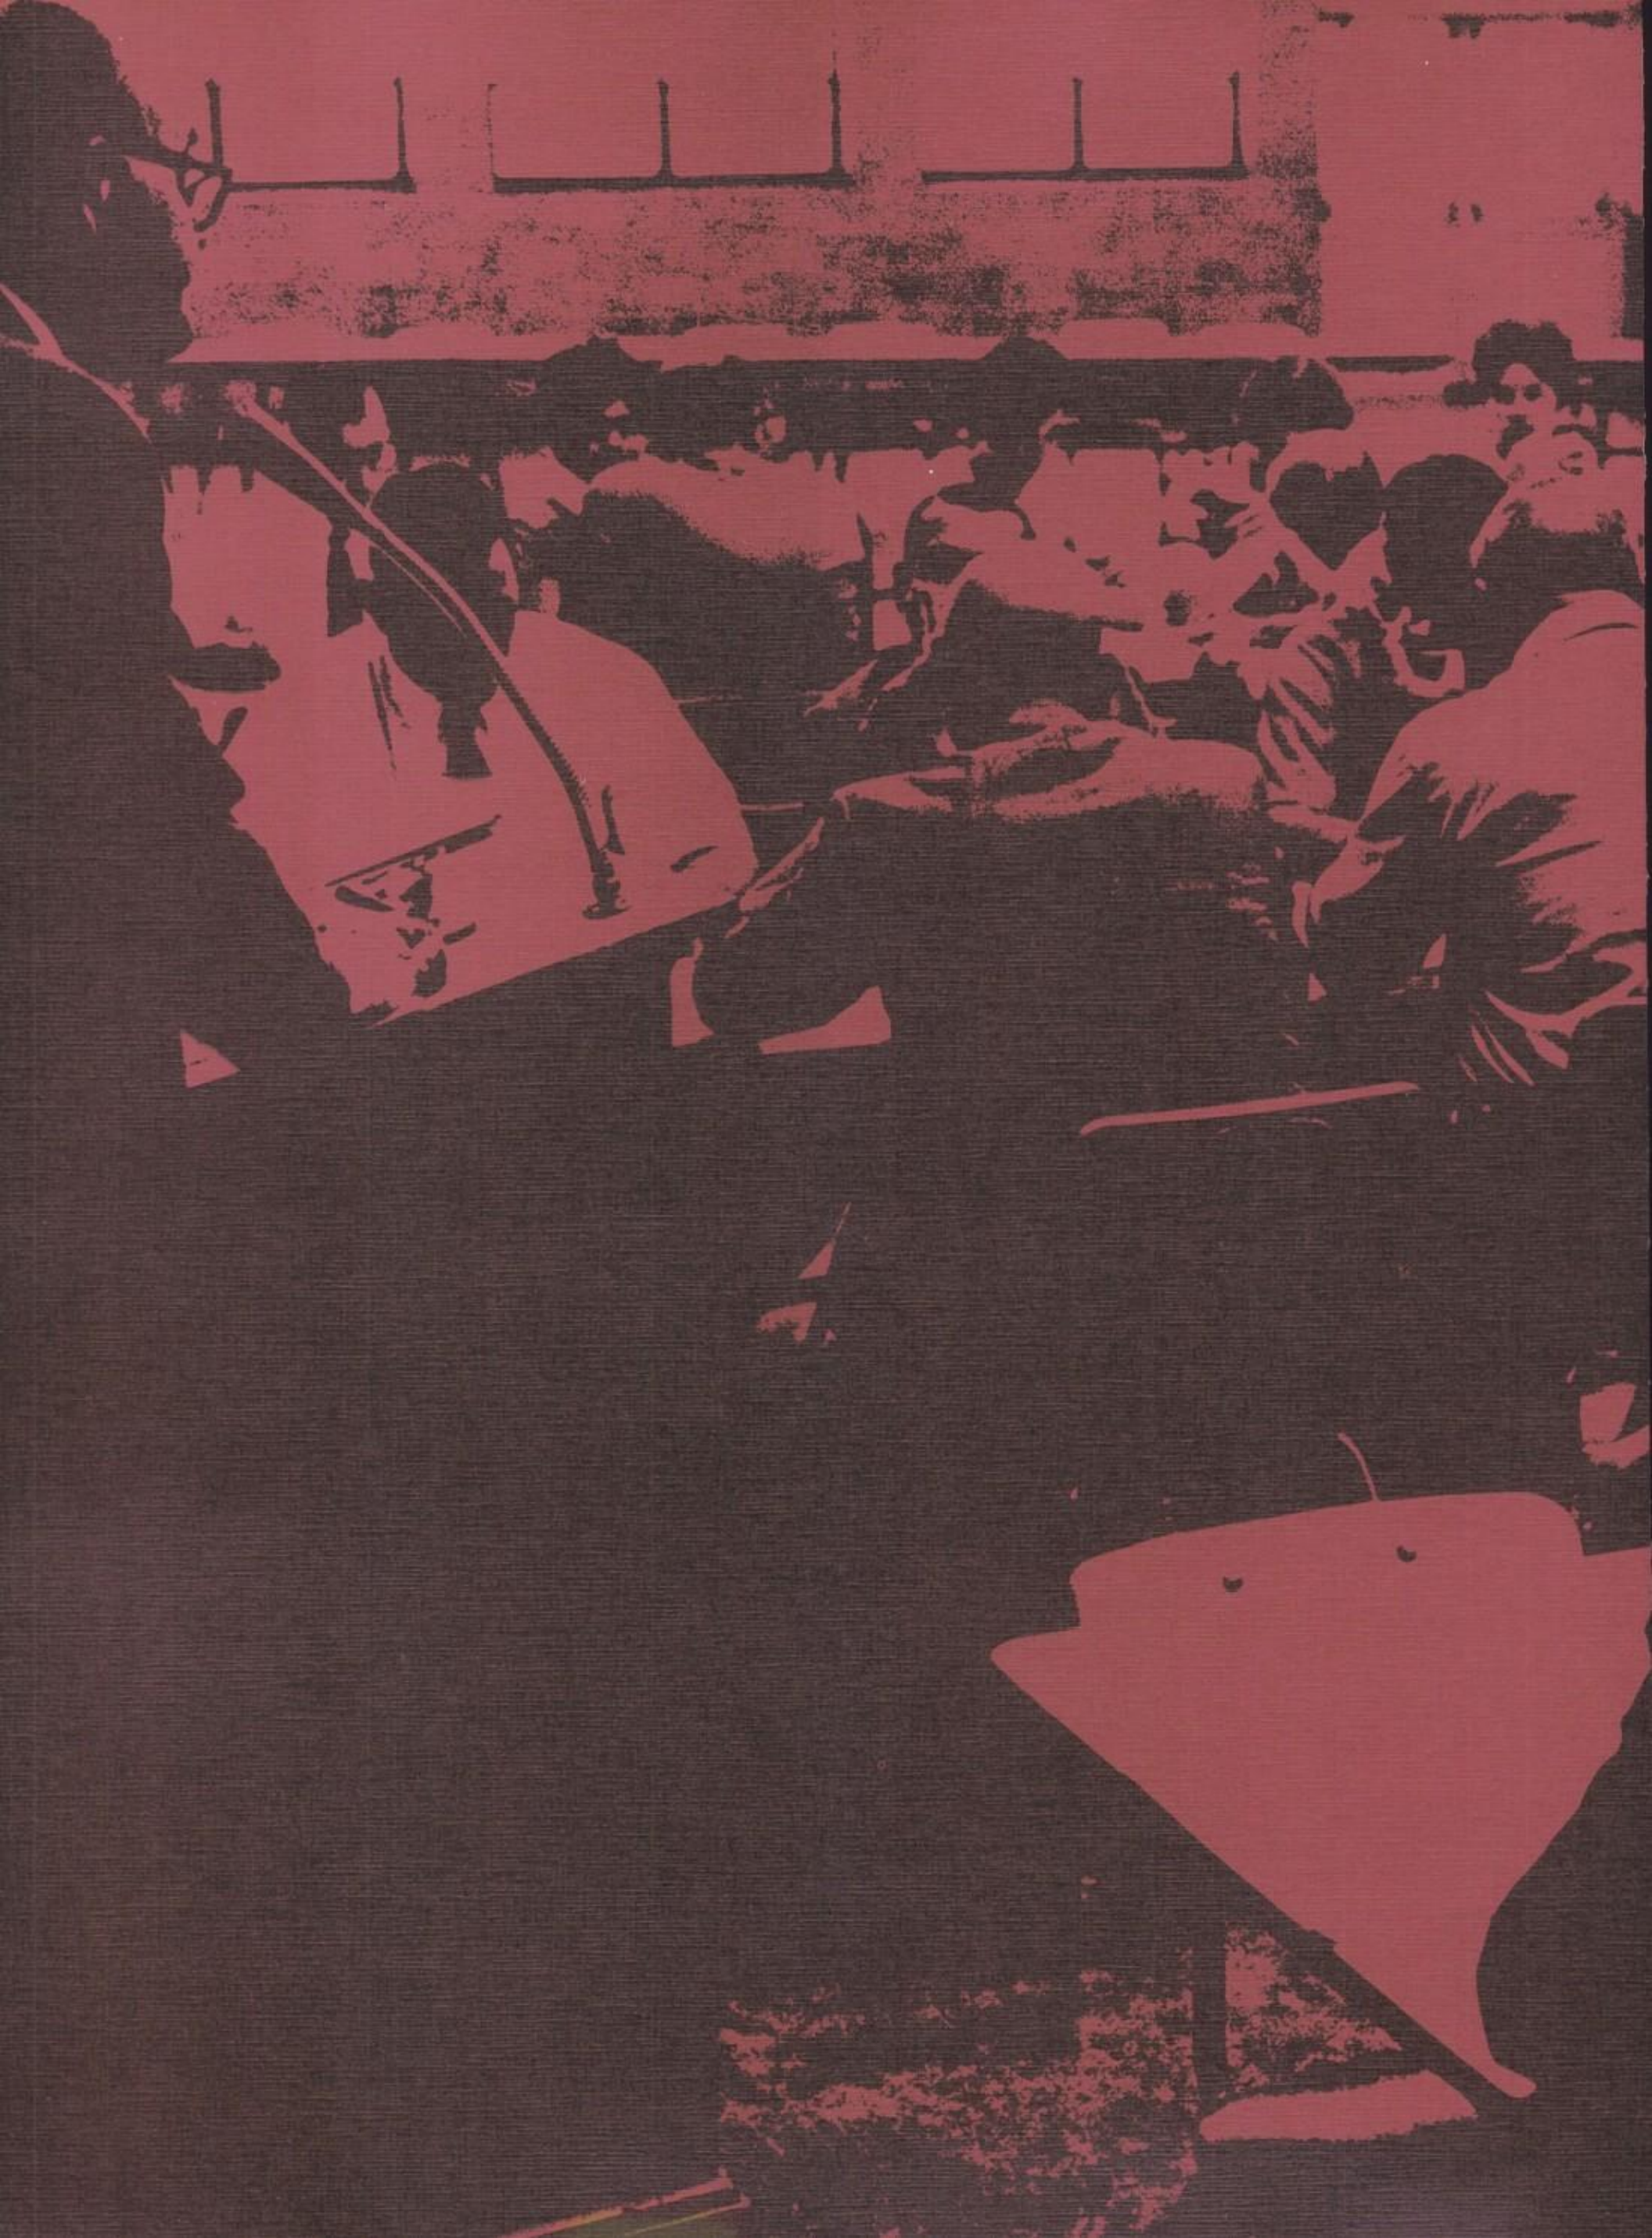
honored powder puffers with undefeated season

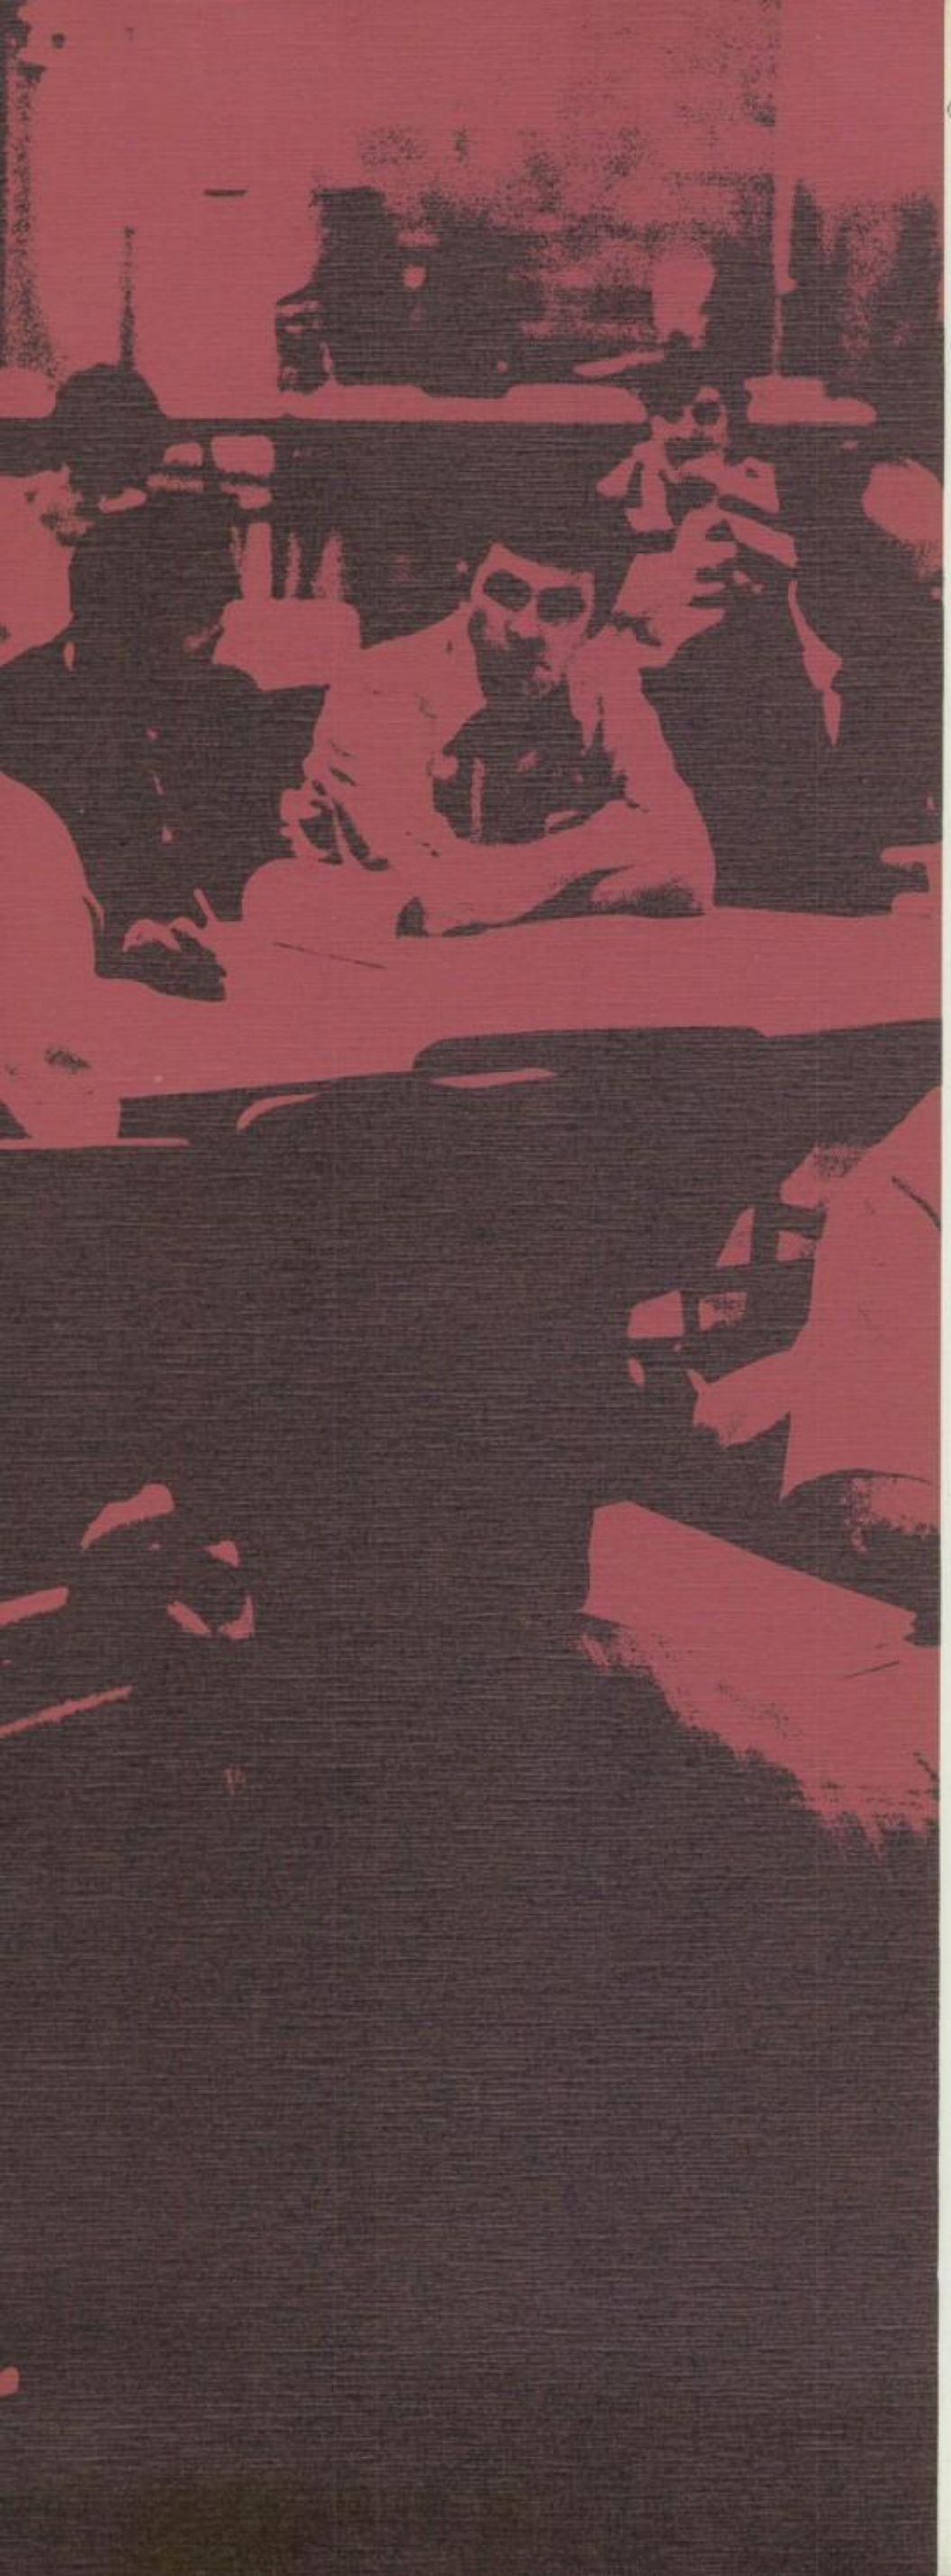
as Lodi smothered Delta, 16-0, on Nov. 13 and edged out Woodbridge, 18-12, on Nov. 24.

Under the coaching of Lupe Luna, Paul Larides, and Dennis Jones, 20 girls provided a well-regimented seven-girl team.

Games were cancelled with Edison, because of transportation problems; Stagg, because of their behavior last year; and St. Mary's and Linden, because they work with an eleven-girl team instead of seven.

MaryAnn Nicolini left ran around end for an impressive touchdown, while Martha Titmus below found an impenetrable wall in Delta's offensive line. Lodi overpowered Delta, 16-0.





Donny - Great - we're finally graduating, only to face something greater. There have been a lot of good times and times that should not have been, but its all in the package. Good luck in whatever you do, wherever you may be.

board voted to create separate schools in 1972

on Mar. 4 to improve efficiency. The board worked under the handicap created by the defeat of the 89 cent tax override election. After cutting deeply into the transportation budget, many protests were heard, including those of irate parents from the Cora Post and Morse Road area who appeared several times before the board. Cuts were also felt in the athletic and mathematics budgets, and field trips were cut to a minimum. Various youths appeared before the board in behalf of Bob Harmon, who was denied the right to play football, and to request a Mexican-American counselor.

shortages

posed new problems for administrators

when cut-backs in facilities were announced. There was a deficiency of machines, paper, books, etc., compared to previous years as the lack of money affected students as well as faculty. Athletics were also affected as it was necessary to raise admission to evening games in order to finance activities.

with the results of the non-existing "dress code" this year. Black, blue, and white skirts were common attire along with maxi dresses as the decades-old "dress code" was ruled out three to one. Half way through the year the student council also voted that girls could wear any type of pants to school.

Students planning more than five classes had to get their program reduced during the summer due to the failure of voters to pass the April 14 bond issue last year.

faced district office staff

as money lack forced doubling up. A key project for district office personnel was compiling results of a curriculum evaluation to determine needs for modernization. Included were performance objectives for each course. As a result, 18 new courses were approved for next year's curriculum with the provision that no additional cost to the district would result. Among new courses will be Meteorology, Introduction to Data Processing, Personal Survival, Astronomy and Space Science, and Power Mechanics.

of language studies for grammar courses

changed EC English Department classes, and plans were made to put Grammar and Composition on freshman schedules for the next year.

Mr. James Lynch used the new Christenson Rhetoric Method in his English advance placement class. This method was on a college level, but he believes it to be excellent for high school seniors also.

Teachers were involved in team teaching projects on both campuses.

Plans were discussed for a revolving teaching program which would aid students in better coverage of their particular English need. This would involve new teachers every quarter for each English class.

cooks provided invigorating meals

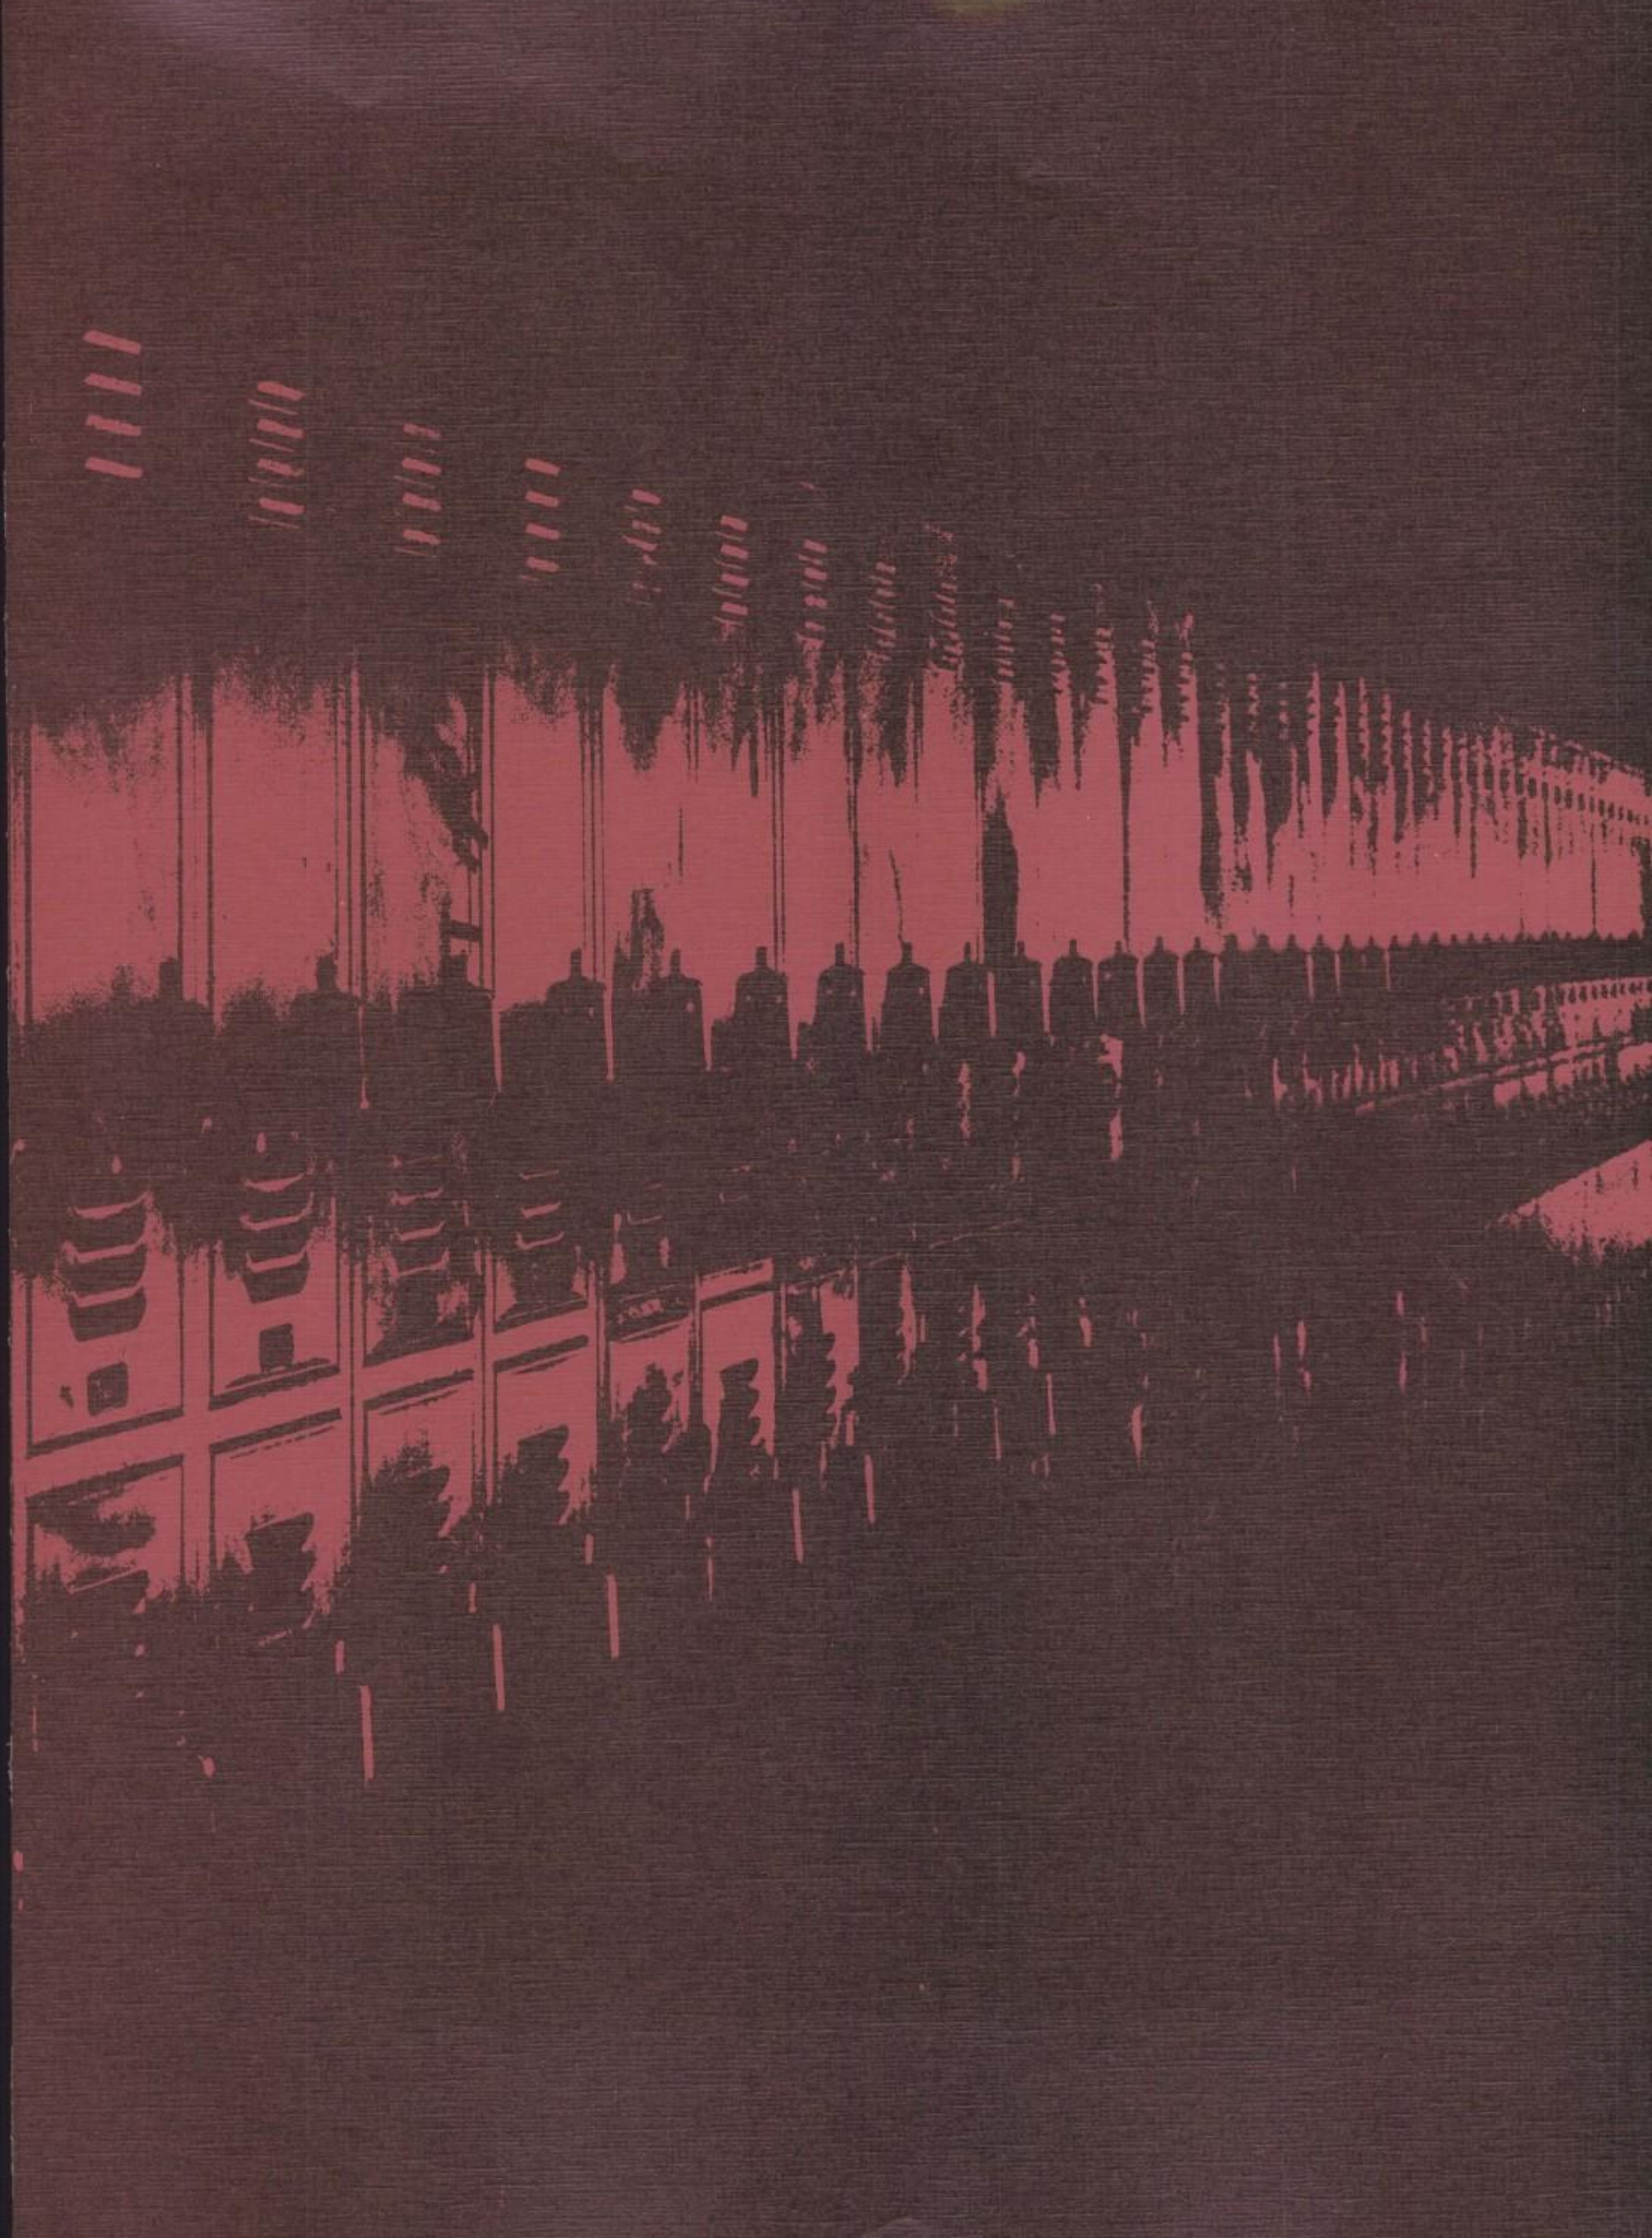
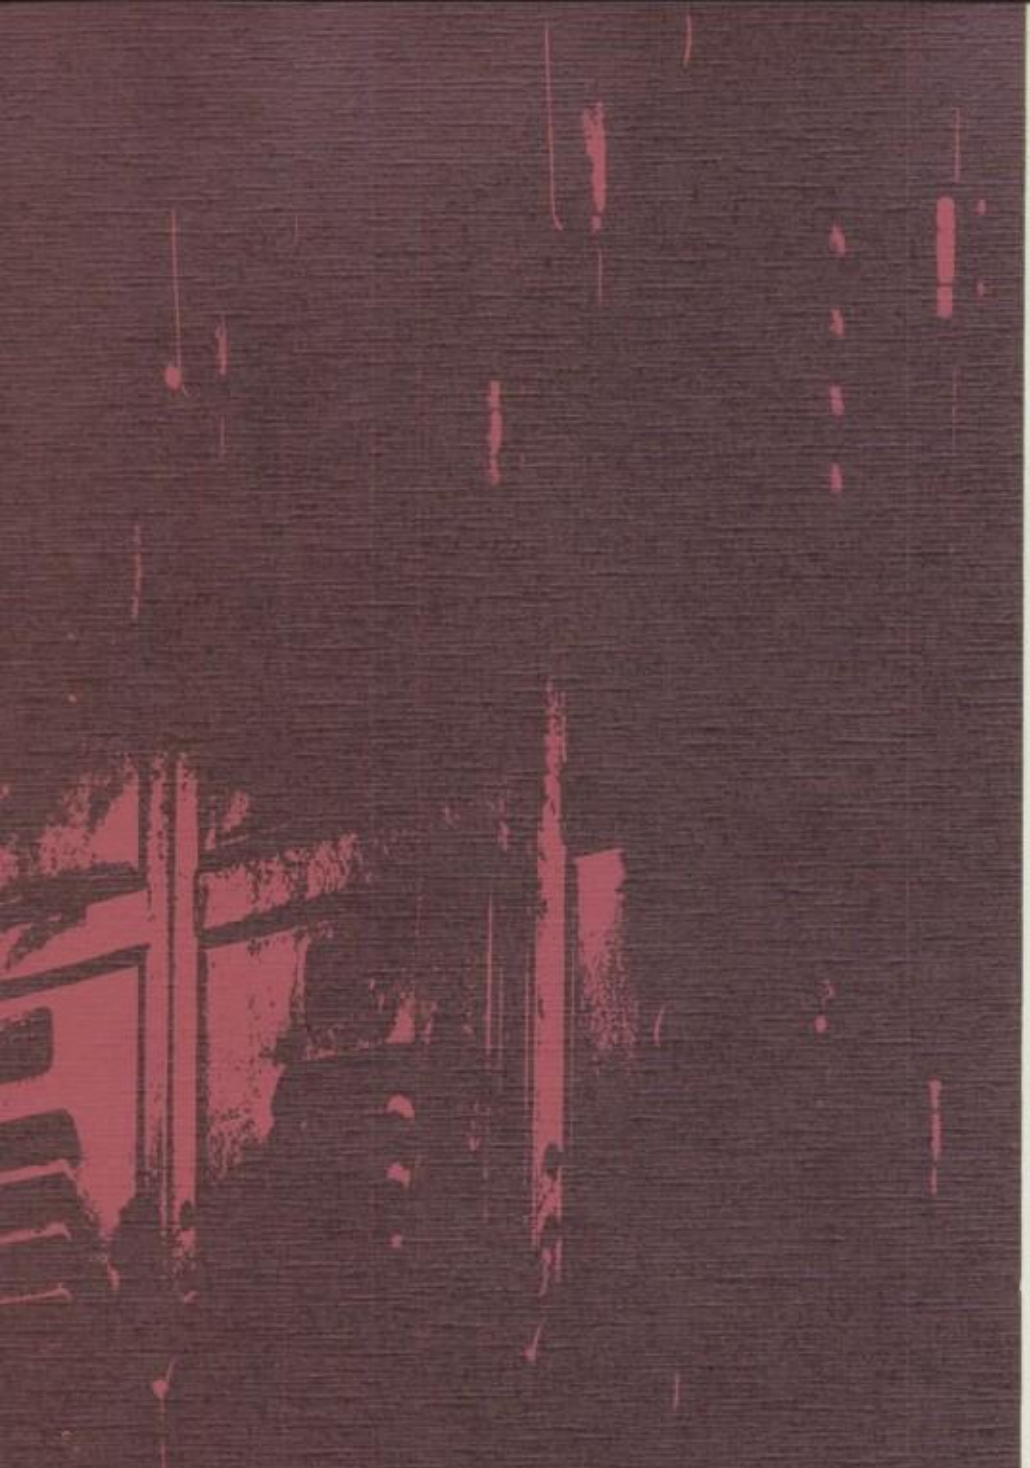
for over 700 students a day. Pupils were offered a choice of either a hot lunch or various popular snack bar sandwiches and treats. The East Campus cafeteria was directed by Mrs. Alvina Wagemann, while Mrs. Alena Koepplin served for the sixth year on the West Campus.

Getting ready in the WC snack bar below were Mrs. Melvena Aipperspach and Mrs. Alma Zimmerman. Busy in the kitchen top right were Mrs. Alena Koepplin, Mrs. LaVerne Wolff and Mrs. Marilyn MacDonald, while Mrs. Irene Gersevske, Mrs. Mary Pfeifle, and Mrs. Armeta Heib cleaned the kitchen. Snack bar personnel were Mrs. Darlus Munsch, Mrs. Isabelle Fraszer, Mrs. Adeline Blanke, and Mrs. Carolyn Acres. Hurrying to clean tables between lunch periods bottom right were Mrs. Gladys LaPorta, Mrs. Dorothy Seibel, and Mrs. Val Isaak.

Mrs. Hilda Nicholas left had the job of EC cash register attendant. Preparing food for students below was hard work, but Mrs. Alvina Wagemann, Mrs. Glendola McMillen, and Mrs. Marie Medford kept smiling. Testing their own food bottom was one of the easier tasks that Mrs. Mollie Radtke, Mrs. Dorothy Herr, Mrs. Martha Avitt, and Mrs. Barbara Battaglia had to perform.





Donny,
See, I live right across the street from you and hardly see you. You've been a real good friend and I hope nothing ever happens to change it. Hope to see you more this summer and all that. o/k. Best of luck in the future and take it easy.

Love,
Gary Bear

displayed determination

as they initiated activities from a back-to-school dance the first day to a Disneyland trip on June 15. They also presented the play "Peter Pan" April 22, 23, and 24 to raise money to provide the group "Tower Power" for the annual all-night party.

to raise money. Under the direction of Adviser Richard Anaforian, a rummage sale Dec. 5 provided funds for the Junior-Senior Prom on Feb. 27. "Selection 70" was the theme for the Junior Variety Show which premiered Dec. 17. Other class activities included a float in the Lodi-Stagg Parade and a fun night tentatively scheduled for May 7.

for an open campus and total involvement on the part of all class members. Officers deliberated with local businessmen to regain an open school during lunch periods, but no change was made. Dues cards again were sold to raise funds. Cardholders were entitled to discounts on class activities throughout the year.

Half of existence is spent searching for life.

Take time . . . .

This has been the theme for the 1971 "Tokay" staff members who devoted weekends, holidays, and after school to planning and creating this yearbook: their frustrations, aspirations, anxieties, and achievements; David Field and his never-ending quest for adventure; Mary Brink and her constant drive for perfection; and all the memories that give this "Tokay" a distinct personality, a warmth that is truly appreciated only by those responsible for its publication.

We take time to thank fellow students for their confidence in the staff, the championship wrestling team, the championship basketball team, the reconstruction of the school constitution, and all the other events that make this yearbook unique.

The greatest thanks goes to Adviser Wayne Field, who is the "Tokay." Without his countless hours of typesetting and layout paste-up this year and overall guidance, the "Tokay" would not have the annual uniqueness to gain five NSPA All Americans in a row.
